

I for one support the local info. When traveling across country it is a great tool to have when you don't have the time to search for local radio stations.